Germany's answer to the allied peace terms must be presented to the peace conference at or before 5.45 p. m. Paris time, Monday, June 23d.

The five-day period originally given the enemy delegation to either accept or reject the terms was extended 48 hours by the conference yesterday.

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, left Versailles last evening for Weimar, where he will arrive today. According to advices he will at once confer with the German National Assembly Wednesday.

It is expected the consideration of the pact will be continued by the Cabinet until Friday and that the final German answer will be laid before the Assembly for ratification on Saturday. Immediately after the Assembly has acted it is expected the chief of the German delegation will start on his return trip to Versailles.

The detailed reply, a summary of which was made public in Paris Monday night, makes no material alterations in the fundamental features of the treaty. There are some concessions but they appear to be of a rather minor nature compared with the demands made by the Germans in their counter proposals.

One of the principal concessions in the admission of Germany to the League of Nations "in the early future," if she fulfills her obligations.

A notable feature of the allied reply was the letter by Premier Clemenceau, the President of the Peace Conference which was a scathing arraignment of Germany for having launched the war and conducting hostilities so ruthlessly. It pointed out that the German people supported the war and that the "Peace of Justice" demanded must be one of justice not only for Germany but for the other peoples of the world.

Paris, June 17.—The Council of Five met this afternoon and took up consideration of the remaining clauses in the peace terms with Austria. The Council likewise considered other matters requiring its attention before the departure of President Wilson tonight for his trip to Belgium.

Paris, June 17.—The Council of Ten of the peace conference received the Turkish peace mission in the Clock room of the Quai d'Orsay this morning.

Paris, June 17.—The majority of the members of the Peace Conference believe that Germany will not sign the treaty according to Marcel Hittor of the Echo de Paris who made a canvas of a number of the leading personalities of the Peace Making body. Only one of these leaders he declares expressed the opinion that the Germans would accept the revised treaty.

Why You Should Buy Coal Now

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?

COLONIAL

Miss Clark's New Photoplay, a Farce; Paramount Star Has Splendid Role in "Let's Elope."

Admirers of dainty Marguerite Clark will find her in a most congenial environment when they see her latest Paramount photoplay, "Let's Elope," which will be played at the Colonial theatre tomorrow and Thursday. The picture is an adaptation by Katherine Reed of Fred Jackson's successful play, "The Naughty Wife," which was produced at the Harris Theatre, New York, Nov. 17, 1917.

The new play is a farce and abounds with amusing situations. One of the funniest of these takes place on the night of the elopement of the young wife with a chap who is younger and temporarily at least, more attractive than her hard-working husband. The latter, hearing of the adventure, insists upon helping the young pair to make a success of it, by offering them his own hangout in the woods for a romantic setting, and his own presence as a chaperon.

The gowns and neckpieces worn by Miss Clark in the production were designed especially for the part she plays and are considered the most attractive creations she has ever worn in the pictures. Frank Mills is the leading man.

SHATTUCK TRAFFIC MANAGER ISSUES NOTICE TO WORKMEN

Says Train Will Run Regardless of Report to the Contrary.

H. B. Sterling, traffic manager of the J. H. Shattuck Company, has issued a notice to the men who are employed at the plant lying in Newbury port and other places who patronize the Boston and Maine train running between Newburyport and Newington for the benefit of such workmen.

Mr. Sterling states there is no truth in the report that this train will be discontinued on June 30 regardless of the statements made by navy officials following a conference with D. & M. officials a few weeks ago. He states that this train in question will run as at present until such time as the Shattuck people withdraw the guarantee. He also states in the notice that there will be no large daily deficit providing the employees of the Atlantic Corporation and the navy yard patronize the train on return movement as they are doing at present.

Both the Atlantic Corporation and the navy yard are working with the Shipping Board and it is possible that after the guarantee is withdrawn about July 15 that arrangement will then be made to continue to run the train. He issues this notice following a conversation with F. T. Grant, Acting General Passenger Agent of the D. & M.

University Takes Up Fashion Question.

The home economics department of the University of Illinois has issued a circular on "Fashions." It was written by Leona Hope, who makes some very sensible criticisms and comments on the foolish fashions of the day, particularly in women's dress.

After commenting on some of the styles of the times which are nothing short of ridiculous, and questioning why women and girls will adopt them, the writer goes on to point out that in addition to being ridiculous some of the styles are positively harmful to the wearers. She says that the health of many girls is broken by the inadequateness of the clothing they wear, and that many are actually deformed by the use of high-heeled and pointed-toed shoes. "I may," she continues, "safely say that half the girls in my classes have hopelessly enlarged big toe joints, due to shoes with high heels and pointed toes." It is further contended that high heels are one cause of bow legs, though it would probably be difficult to substantiate this claim. There are many bow-legged men who never wore high heels, and not all of the women who wear them are bow-legged, as common observation, how inescapable by all who walk the streets, makes plain. The writer of the article thinks mothers are largely to blame for the evils arising from the use of unsuitable clothing and that "they should advise, restrain and guide their daughters in the selection of clothes to a greater degree than is customary at present." This may be so, but it is well known that many girls are not taking advice or accepting restraint or guidance from their mothers in the matter of clothing in this day and generation. It is also a fact that many mothers are as foolish in the matter of dress as their daughters are.

It is a pity that fashion has such a hold on people as it has. Bowing to its unreasonable dictates is the cause of a great deal of discomfort, in addition to many instances of positive injury to health, which should be prized higher than anything which fashion-following is able to bestow.

While women are worse offenders than men in bowing to the dictates of fashion, they are not alone in this folly, for men also are guilty of sacrificing comfort to style to a larger extent than they should be.

But men are progressing. They are not as slavish to fashion as they were a generation or two ago. Very few are the men now who will pinch and deform their feet with shoes too small, a practice that was once common, to their everlasting shame be it said. They now, for the most part, insist upon dressing for comfort. And yet to some extent they still submit to the dictation of the fashion makers and pay the inevitable penalty. Some years ago the helmet hat was in common use in summer, and it was the most comfortable hot weather hat ever devised, but the time came when fashion decreed its retirement, and into retirement it went. The same is true of yellow shoes, which are far superior to black for hot weather. Nevertheless in most things pertaining to dress men still insist upon a reasonable degree of comfort, as women should also do.

It would be well in these days of upheaval and overthrow if the fashion makers could at least be checked in their mad career, but, unfortunately, there is no prospect of such a happy outcome.

Poll tax payers in Boston are settling their accounts rather than go to jail. And they would do this in other towns and cities if the alternative were put up to them. No man can be called a good citizen who is unwilling to pay a poll tax for such privileges as he enjoys in a country like this.

Washington reports many attempts to smuggle liquor into the country, but says the efforts have been successfully met in most cases by the custom house officials. "There is no doubt that eternal vigilance will be the price of 'bone dryness.'"

At the Ayrshire exposition at Springfield, Mass., some animals were sold for more than $1,000 each, and a calf one day old brought $110. Even the farmers have money when you show them what they want.

Railroad business is picking up, particularly in the West, and it is hoped this will serve to lessen the deficit for the next quarter. But those in control should do something more than to sit back and hope.

The Irish societies of America would have liked it much better if President Wilson had left out the word, "unofficially," in telling what he would do for them at the Peace Conference.

Dover has joined the procession and is going to "whoop it up" on the Fourth. Independence Day this year will be a good deal of a day in these United States of America.

The Gypsies are now traveling by automobile, but this does not mean that they will not bear as sharp watching as ever.

If they are not inclined to this agreement, the order from the bureau directs that they have a choice of reenlisting in the regular navy for a period of four years or applying for a discharge.

OBSEQUIES

Timothy Sweeney.

The remains of Timothy Sweeney, who died in England, were brought to this city this morning and internment took place in Calvary cemetery, a committal service being held at the grave.

Arthur E. Richardson.

The funeral of Arthur E. Richardson was held this forenoon at ten o'clock at St. John's church, the pastor, Rev. Nelson Kellogg, conducting the service. The officers of St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M. were present and the Masonic service was also held. The bearers were Fred E. Beckham, Judge Edward H. Adams, George J. Kaula and Fred A. Robinson.

Interment was in Pine Hill cemetery, Dover, under the direction of J. Verne Wood.

The death of Mr. Richardson is especially felt in St. John's parish. He was a member of the church and of the vestry, a constant attendant and much interested in affairs of that society. He gave willingly of his time to decorate for some of the social gatherings of the parish and being a professional decorator his work was greatly appreciated, while his fine personality and genial disposition and interest in church activities made him many friends in St. John's parish who regret his death.

Edmund Leary.

The funeral of Edmund Leary took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from his residence on 76 Morning street. The large funeral procession which followed the remains to the Church of the Immaculate Conception and thence to Calvary cemetery showed the high esteem and honor in which the deceased was held. Father Alex D. Sullivan, P. R. officiated at the high mass of requiem which was sung so touchingly by the senior choir. The edifice was well filled with relatives and friends. The family was showered with expressions of sympathy and sorrow which were shown by the abundance of beautiful floral tributes, which were as follows:

"Pillow," "Husband," from wife and family; "Pillow," "Brother," from Mrs. Catherine Ryan and Mrs. Hannah White; standing circle from the employees of the band finish department, Morley Hutton Co.; spray of fifty-five peonies from Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Duffy and family; spray of white roses from Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hunt and family; spray of pink carnations from the Misses Harris; spray of white carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Baldea and family; spray of red and white carnations from Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

Skids on Oiled Surface and Women Have Narrow Escape.

Mrs. J. P. Clare, a resident of Greenland and her daughter had a narrow escape from serious injury on the Greenland road on Monday afternoon when the automobile which she was driving skidded on the newly oiled highway, went down an embankment and half way over a stone wall. Mrs. Clare was attempting to make room for another machine to pass and the absence of any sand or gravel on the smooth surface caused the machine to leave the road and collide with the wall. Mrs. Clare suffered much from the shock but otherwise escaped.

Several other machines have experienced many narrow escapes on account of the condition of the road and complaints are numerous to the selectmen of the town.

PLANNING FOR A 24-HOUR CELEBRATION

A meeting of the Committee on the Fourth of July celebration was held on Monday evening at the City Hall and considerable progress was made in the plans. Through was outlined to show that it will be twenty-four hours of celebration, with every opportunity for the returning war veterans to have a good time and mingle with the people without the formality of a parade.

The idea of a parade was brought up but it was voted not attempt one, as in the opinion of the committee the soldiers are fed up on parades. There was an option left open for the War Legion to decide, and if they wish to parade provisions will be made for it.

President F. A. Helden of the Chamber of Commerce agreed to take charge of the collecting of funds and he will appoint a committee and begin a canvass as soon as possible. The members of the Electrical Workers at the Navy Yard who have agreed to do all of the work, will also canvass the yard.

The band committee reported that they had engaged the Portsmouth City Band for the night before the Fourth and all of the Fourth and the Dover City Band 24 pieces for the Fourth. In addition two dance orchestras have been secured, one a ladies team, and they will play for the dancing.

Dancing will be one of the features of the celebration. The committee have secured the lumber for a dance platform of 100 feet square for the Play Grounds, and in addition the War Camp Community have offered them the use of their dance tent and music in the P. A. C. garden. The plan is to have dancing the night before, from 11 o'clock to 2 o'clock on the Play Grounds, and during the afternoon and evening of the Fourth.

It is planned to have a victory band and Eugene Williams, has been appointed chairman of the building of the pile and he promises the biggest fire that has ever been lighted in this city.

The matter of the fireworks for the night of the Fourth was left open, to see if the City Council will make an appropriation for this. They did for years before the war and the committee hope that they will help out at this time.

It is planned to have refreshments, a buffet lunch, served during the day for all men in uniform and all veterans of the wars, either Civil, Spanish or the World War. In addition the committee have not forgotten the children and they will have ice cream and peanuts for the little people. In fact special attention is to be paid to the veterans and enlisted men and the children, the others can take care of themselves and help in making it a great day for the others.

Emmett O'Leary has been appointed to arrange for the community singing and he will secure a leader and the song sheets.

The program for the Fourth includes sports in the forenoon, swimming races, etc., and in the afternoon a baseball game and if possible a special wire will run to the grounds to give the story of the Willard and Deming fight round by round.

The men in charge, a hustling bunch of workers who are not afraid of work and they propose to make it the biggest day for the returning veterans have ever had. Everybody can help and everybody is expected to.

The Navy Yard won another game on Monday evening when they defeated the K. of C. by 6 to 2 in a game in which the pitchers were generous with gifts. The Navy Yard played a good game, and Monk who appeared for the first time pitched good ball, although he was inclined to be a little wild at times, passing six men. He batted well and held his position in good shape.

Lewis started for the K. C. and in the second he went wild and after passing three men and being touched for two singles he was relieved by Wood who finished the game.

The Knights were up and scored in the first inning, Kelley hit to Mastan, Timmons drew a pass and stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Estabrook's single after Angwin had struck out; Moran walked but Connor was retired, Broderick to M. W. Hayes. One run.

The Navy Yard led in their half after two men had been retired, Cannon by the strike out route, and Bailey on a fly to Wood; M. W. Hayes hit for two bases and scored on Leonard's single; Irvine hit to Kelley who forced Leonard at second. One run.

The Knights again took the lead in the second, after two men were gone Wood and Patterson going out, W. L. Hayes to M. W. Hayes; Lewis walked and went to second on Monk's ball, and stole third; Kelley walked and stole second, and Timmons came thru.
